

“Working showroom for distinctive housing developers.”

As the central hub for a property development business, DSP we’re asked to provide ideas and inspiration for a newly acquired building, that would impress visitors. The client was keen to showcase their buildings and provide an environment that both staff and visitors- potential clients- would feel comfortable in and be inspired by.

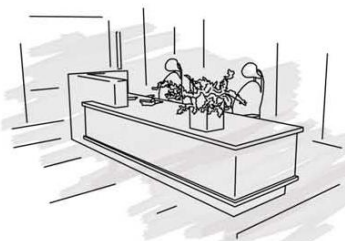

Using every opportunity to showcase, elements such as typical bathrooms, floor finishes and building promotional materials had to be incorporated seamlessly into the design. Owing to the nature of the business a variety of tasks had to be accommodated from periods of intense focused working through to different ad hoc meeting and working scenarios. All practical aspects of the design were accomplished whilst providing a ‘homely’ aesthetic.
